

Minutes of bi-lateral meeting between TEA/Gaelectric

Present:

Donal Deering TEA

Darren Freel Gaelectric

Date 3rd February (Irbea, Dublin)

Gaelectric is a big wind farm operator, has bioenergy interests through recent acquisition of Imperative Energy (Joe Carroll), and is also a market/settlements operator. The company is active in Ireland and worldwide

He is very lukewarm about future participation. He is not available the 14th March for training. He may send somebody else.

He thought we should have M&E contracting skills in the group and thought Buttimers would be a good partner

He also intimated that having another member in the group who is a competitor would be a problem in sharing information. I explained that this would be overcome by having a particular competence from one company only dedicated to a particular project so that the problem should not arise.
